Mold Testing

American Consulting's licensed mold assessors will perform a thorough visual inspection of the area for mold. Air or swab samples of the affected areas will be taken as well as a photo-document the sample areas and the samples themselves as well as the conditions at the time of the inspection. We will then take the samples to a laboratory for detailed analysis. Once lab results are available, a detailed report and lab results will be provided to the property owner. This report will advise whether there is a mold contamination, severity of mold growth, and a recommendation to remediate the mold.

Bacteria Surface Testing

If proper procedures aren't implemented, contamination can overrun restaurants, hospitals, cafeterias or even a cellphone surface. American Consulting has State-of-the-art Bacteria Detection Meters for food safety, healthcare and sanitation industry professionals. These devices are self-calibrated, moisture-sealed and intended to operate flawlessly in harsh conditions. Safeguard your business and locate the source of troublesome contaminants with the help of American Consulting.

Keeping your family safe is our priority!

Asbestos Testing

The abatement consultant will carefully remove a small sample of the suspected materials and then it will be sent independent and `accredited laboratory for Polarized Light Microscopy Analysis (PLM). If it is determined that asbestos is present American Consulting will oversee the abatement process. Once completed American Consulting will be able to provide a full report and clearance certificate

Lead Testing

Structures built in 1978 and prior should be evaluated for lead-based painted surfaces. Our technicians will visually inspect the property looking for potential lead-based paint hazards. In the event there is a suspicion of lead based-paint our technician will take samples to a nearby laboratory for proper testing.
